

Training-through-Research Floating University in the Barents Sea

3-20 August, 2022

Training-through-Research is a scientific educational program to train new generations of marine geologists and geophysicists through active research on fluid migration systems and sedimentary processes

Who can join?

Enthusiasts and motivated Msc or PhD students interested to work in marine sciences and to collect data for their projects

How to join?

Send your CV and motivation letter to: adriano.mazzini@geo.uio.no

Learn more about previous Training Through Research Floating University expeditions here: <http://floatinguniversity.ru/>

The HOTMUD project is financed by the Research Council of Norway